

SHORT STORY:

a workshop series with Angela Murphy

10am to 4.30pm Saturdays
15 and 29 March 2008

A Block at TAFE, Eureka St., Cairns

Writing great short stories is no easy feat. You need all the elements of novel-length work in a fraction of the space. Learn some of the tools you need to develop a short story, how to choose the right words, evoke a reader's emotions and write killer opening lines. Over this two-part workshop series, Angela Murphy will help you gain an understanding of the fundamental elements of the short story and assist you in the art of sharing your work with others.

Angela Murphy - M.Litt, BA, BHMS (Education)

Angela left the teaching profession in 2002 to follow her passion for words. Over the next five years she received a HD for her Master of Letters (Creative Writing), wrote free-lance and commissioned articles for newspapers, magazines and Education Queensland, won awards for her short stories, had her short film-script developed through the PFTC and in 2006 her full-length play The Boathouse was professionally produced in both Cairns and Darwin. She loves engaging with other writers and has conducted many writing workshops across the Far North.

Bookings: are strictly limited and bookings are essential. To book contact Queensland Writers Centre by calling 07 3839 1243.

QWC and Arts Nexus Members	$150
QWC Concession Members	$130
Non-members	$200

Venue Map: http://www.tnqit.tafe.qld.gov.au/resources/pdfs/international_students/maps_international_students.pdf.

Opportunities

Keep your eye out on Arts Nexus website homepage and / online calendar for more program opportunities such as a visit by multi-award winning Australian poet Geoff Page in late March, and a new Springboard Series of writing workshops by local presenter Hazel Menehira in association with the Tropical Writers group.

www.artsnexus.com.au

Deadlines

ARTS NEXUS MAGAZINE
(quarterly subject to funding)

- 1 March 2008
for April-June edition #66
- 1 June 2008
for July-September edition #67
- 1 September 2008
for October-December edition #68
- 15 November 2008
for January-March 2009 #69
(out in mailboxes by Christmas)

ADVERTISING INQUIRIES WELCOME

Queensland
Government